

GDPR Data Privacy Notice for Customers and Clients

This Notice sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it.

The rules on processing of personal data are set out in the General Data Protection Regulation (the “GDPR”).

1. Definitions

Consent - The individual has given clear consent for you to process their personal data for a specific purpose

Contract - The processing is necessary for a contract you have with the individual, or because they have asked you to take specific steps before entering into a contract.

A contract does not have to be a formal signed document, or even written down as long as you both intend the terms to be legally binding and there is an element of exchange e.g. exchange of goods or services for money.

Controller – A controller determines the purposes and means of processing personal data.

Legitimate interests - The processing is necessary for your legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party unless there is a good reason to protect the individual’s personal data which overrides those legitimate interests.

Processor – A processor is responsible for processing personal data on behalf of a controller.

Data subject – Natural person

Personal data – The GDPR applies to ‘personal data’ meaning any information relating to an identifiable person who can be directly or indirectly identified in particular by reference to an identifier (as explained in Article 6 of GDPR). For example name, passport number, home address or private email address. Online identifiers include IP addresses and cookies.

Processing – means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.

2. Who are we?
